NOTE:  All TODOs using the ATOMS program will need one of the following privileges set up on their computer:

1.  Full administration rights to the computer.
2.  Power User rights to the computer.
3.  Full Control to the ATOMS 2000 folder on the drive where the program is installed on and to each of the folders on different drives where the program is backed up to.

The need for this requirement is based on the fact that when TODOs add or remove TO information in the ATOMS program, it is writing data to the programs database.  Without one of the above levels of access to the drives/programs, the computer will not allow data to be written to the database.  When TODOs see the following error message, "17 tables are missing, this is bad news, would you like to create a new database", the correct answer is NO!  If TODOs select YES, their database will be erased.  After "NO" has been selected have one of the three levels of permission added to your computer.  This problem most commonly occurs when one of the above privileges has been removed or when a TODO downloads an initial or new version of the ATOMS program and attempts to open the program. IAW TO 00-5-1, 4.5.2.2. (Third bullet)  TODOs using JCALS must document receipt and distribution of TOs to subaccounts using the ATOMS 2000 Stock Action function. JCALS can be used for sub-account management if the functionality is incorporated in a future upgrade. (NOTE:  Subaccount functionality in JCALS is currently not operational and will not be made available in future JCALS upgrades.  Consequently, all AF TODOs using JCALS must use the ATOMS program in conjunction with JCALS to comply with the above quote from 00-5-1.  Call the AF Technical Order Help Desk DSN: 872-9300, COM: 850-882-9300 for further explanation on this subject.)
